are devoted to cultivating the inner life. Jung suggested that the psyche unfolds toward wholeness over the course of a lifetime, and our public programs are presented in the spirit of realizing this possibility at both the personal and collective levels – through a community of understanding. Those who attend our lectures and workshops seek to enlarge and deepen their understanding of life’s challenges and stages with our speakers. We invite you to attend our events and explore our library of books, journals, and recordings of extensive library of books, journals, and recordings of

About the Oregon Friends of C.G. Jung

The visionary Swiss psychiatrist Carl Gustav Jung (1875-1961) was a pioneer in depth psychology who remains a source of inspiration and enlightenment for those who are open to the wisdom, creativity, and healing potential of the psyche. Oregon Friends of C.G. Jung offers lectures and workshops in which Jungian ideas are explored in depth.

Lionel Corbett, MD, trained in medicine and psychiatry in England and as a Jungian Analyst at the C.G. Jung Institute of Chicago. His primary interests are the religious function of the psyche, especially the way in which personal religious experience is relevant to individual psychology, the development of psychotherapy as a spiritual practice, and the interface of Jungian psychology and contemporary psychoanalytic thought. Dr. Corbett is a professor of depth psychology at Pacifica Graduate Institute, in Santa Barbara, California, where he teaches depth psychology. He is the author of numerous professional papers and four books: Psycho and the Sacred, The Religious Function of the Psychic, The Sacred Cauldron: Psychotherapy as a Spiritual Practice, and most recently: The Soul in Anguish: Psychotherapeutic Approaches to Suffering. He is the co-editor of: Psycho’ Stories; Jung and Aging, Depth Psychology, Meditations in the Field, and Psychology at the Threshold.

Richard Tarnas, PhD, is a professor of philosophy and cultural history at the California Institute of Integral Studies in San Francisco, where he founded the graduate program in Philosophy, Cosmology, and Consciousness. He also teaches archetypal studies and depth psychology at Pacifica Graduate Institute in Santa Barbara. He is the author of: The Passion of the Western Mind, a history of the Western world-view used in many universities, and Cosmos and Psyche: Intimations of a New World View, which will be the basis for the upcoming documentary, Changing of the Gods, narrated by John Cleese. Richard Tarnas frequently lectures abroad as well as at various Jung institutes and societies throughout the U.S., and served for many years on the Board of Governors of the C. G. Jung Institute of San Francisco.

Donald Kalsched, PhD, is a Jungian analyst and clinical psychologist who practices in Santa Fe, New Mexico. He is a member of the C. G. Jung Institute of Santa Fe, a senior faculty member and supervisor with the Inter Regional Society of Jungian Analysts and lectures nationally and internationally on the subject of trauma and its treatment. His celebrated book The Inner World of Trauma: Archetypal Defenses of the Personal Spirit (Routledge 1996) explores the interface between contemporary psychoanalytic theory and Jungian thought as it relates to practical clinical work with the survivors of early childhood trauma. His new book, Trauma and the Soul: A Psycho-spiritual Approach to Human Development and its Interruption (Routledge, 2013) explores the “spiritual” dimensions of clinical work with trauma-survivors. He and his wife Robin live in Santa Fe, during the winter, and in summer in Newfoundland, Canada.

Jutta von Buchholtz, PhD, is a Zürich-trained Jungian Analyst. She is also an L.P.C. and has a private practice in Birmingham, Alabama. Her Ph.D. in medieval literature from Vanderbilt University is particularly helpful as she applies it to her Jungian understanding of myths, legends and fairy tales in her work with clients. Dr. Von Buchholtz is part of the core faculty of both the New Orleans and Memphis-Atlanta IRSJA training seminars. She gives lectures, conducts retreats and workshops in the U.S.A. and occasionally at SAP in Zürich.

- The Soul in Anguish: Depth Psychological Approaches to Suffering
  - Lionel Corbett, MD
  - Lecture: When suffering strikes us, it is helpful to find a framework through which we may understand it. Traditional religions and diagnostic-orientated psychologies offer explanations and reasons for suffering, and we will consider some, but depth psychology has unique approaches. This lecture will describe some ways to search for meaning in suffering, and consider it as an experience of liminality and initiation into a new level of consciousness. We will discuss an approach to suffering based on radical acceptance.

- The Gods at Play: Archetypal Powers and Patterns in the Arts
  - Richard Tarnas, PhD
  - Lecture: As ancient poets and modern depth psychologists have long recognized, the arts represent an especially vivid expression of the archetypes that inform and enhance and illumine the other. By engaging all the human sensibilities with what Hillman calls “archetypal eyes,” we will focus especially on major examples from music and comedy. Our approach will be facilitated by the combined lenses of depth psychology and archetypal astrology, which permit an extraordinarily precise focus on the specific archetypal complexes most prominently at work in a given individual, work of art, or cultural era.

- Healing Trauma: The Lost and Recovered Soul in Depth Psychotherapy
  - Donald Kalsched, PhD
  - Lecture: In this slide-illustrated lecture, Dr. Kalsched will describe a series of dramatic narratives in the psychotherapy of trauma survivors where a breakthrough occurred in the client's access to dissociated feelings, opening opportunities for creativity and relatedness. These moments were accompanied by vivid dreams in which a lost or abandoned “child” appeared – often mirrored by the psyche’s reparative powers. Parallels will be shown between these dreams and those ancient myths that describe the birth and trials of the archetypal self. This self always carries a dual destiny – part human, part divine, and whose “purpose” is to renew the community.
